James Rannie Passes Away.

James A. Rannie, who four weeks ago developed senile dementia and gradually grew worse, died at a sanitarium in Council Bluffs, Sunday, to which place he was taken the Thursday previous, accompanied by his wife and son. While his condition was regarded serious and that he was falling rapidly, the end came sooner than was expected. The remains were received from Council Bluffs last evening and the funeral will be held from the home at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon, Dean Bowker officiating.

James A. Rannie was born in England, July 16, 1846, and when he was but one year old, his parents came to this country and located on Mt. Carmel, Pa. While a resident of that state he learned the machinist trade, but in 1872, he came to Dodge county, Neb., and located on a farm. Soon after his arrival there he was united to Miss Anna Parker, who came from Pennsylvania about the same time. They remained on the Dodge county farm until 1877, when they moved to North Platte, where Mr. Rannie entered the shops as a machinist and continued this work until four weeks ago when the trouble developed. It is generally believed that a fall received some months ago while at work hastened the malady that brought the end.

Mr. Rannie was one of North Platte's most respected and best known citizens; for the thirty-eight years he lived among us his life was one of industry and loyalty to his family and friends. He was of a cheerful disposition, greeted you with a smile, and popular with every acquaintance. For twenty or more consecutive years he was a director of the Mutual Building and Loan Association, and took a live interest in its affairs. He was affiliated with the Modern Woodmen and A. O. U. W. lodges, and in each of these he had filled the official chairs.

Surviving Mr. Rannie is the wife, five sons and two daughters. The sons are W. R. Rannie, of Grant's Pass, Ore., E. J. and J. A. Rannie, of Portland, Ore., and Albert U. and Geo. M. Rannie, who make North Platte their home. The daughters are Mrs. Alice Terrell, of Omaha, and Miss Bessie living at home.

"The Red Rose" May 3d.

That successful musical comedy, "The Red Rose," comes to the Keith Monday evening, May 3d. This is John C. Fisher's greatest addition to the list of his successful musical comedies, and it is a real winner—a worthy successor to his "Floradora," which was the first musical "hit" of America.

Certain it is that "The Red Rose" enjoyed a pronounced vogue during the year or more of its run at the Globe theatre in New York, and on tour has met enviable success the country over, especially this season with financial conditions as they now exist, capacity houses have greeted this production everywhere.

Fisher, who has been called "the inventor of musical comedy," is a man who is most pronounced in his ideas as to the elements which make for the success of a musical offering. Feminine youth and beauty are the prime requisites as witness his famous "Floradora Sextette." Every one of the original girls, of whom volumes have been written, was a prize beauty. Every one of them has since won a wealthy husband and they are all out of the theatrical world, but the effect of their personalities is to be found in "The Red Rose" as it has been in every Fisher offering since then, for in the girls of his famous sextette, Fisher showed the world his ideal of womanly beauty, and his show girls have since been selected with the old sextette in mind. It will be noticed that they are rather tall, are usually brunettes and besides their beauty they have real singing voices and they dance. And there you have the secret of Fisher's success as a producer of musical comedy in a nutshell, so to speak.

True he gives his production the most extravagantly lavished mountings—pays absurd attention to the richness of his costumes and spares no expense in the securing of clever comedians—but the real crux of the whole matter is the selection of his women principles and his chorus.

A Reasonable Prediction.

The mayor-elect of Chicago, "Big Bill" Thompson told a St. Louis audience the other day that a republican president will be elected in 1916. With the republican party reunited, and in further view of the fact that Wilson was elected because of the republican split in 1912, this prediction is not at all unreasonable.
